REMARKABLE STORY

Of the Adventures of a Citizen of Louisville.

HE WAS KIDNAPED EARLY IN FEBRUARY

Carried to New Orleans and Sent to Sea in a Schooner—Jumped Overboard, Was Shot and Harpooned and Left for Dead.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—A very remarkable story of kidnapping and attempted murder came to light in this city for the first time yesterday.
Wednesday three gentlemen arrived from Sabine Pass, Tex., two of whom were Messrs. C. S. and H. House, the other being Paul Johnson. Mr. Johnson was very weak and under the care of physicians while here. Messrs.
House tells the following story of Mr.
Johnson:

On about the middle of July, while they were fishing off the coast near Sabine Pass, they saw a man spring overboard from a schooner which lay near by. Instantly several men on board the schooner began shooting at the man. Not only was he shot as he swam towards the shore, but a large harpoon, used for gigning fish was thrown at him, crushing in his chest. The man sank and the schooner hastily sailed away, evidently giving the man up for drowned. The House boys, however, saw the figure rise from the water, and going to his rescue, succeeded in bringing him ashore.

The man proved to be Paul Johnson, who said that early in February he was kidnapped in Louisville, placed in the hold of a boat and taken to New Orleans, where he was placed on a schooner and brought to the coast of Texas, where occurred the incidents narrated above.

THE WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

Annual Election of Officers—Mrs. Gen. Logan—Teaching Patriotism in Schools.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 14.—At yesterday afternoon's session of the Woman's Relief Corps, Mrs. Emma Wallace, of Chicago, was elected national president, and Mrs. Helen F. Morrison, of Smithport, Pa., senior vice-president.
Junior Vice—Lizzie B. Herrick, of Seattle, Wash.

In the contest for treasurer, Mrs. A.
A. Cheney, of Detroit, Mich., was elected, and Agnes S. Parker, of Maryland, was unanimously elected chaplain.

The executive board will be elected this morning.

It was decided that the detached corps in states where no departments exist, and which are mainly composed of colored members should continue to report to national headquarters.

The presentation of Mrs. John A.
Logan was the signal for an enthusiastic demonstration, and in response the widow of the late general made a brief appreciative address.

A resolution was adopted urging the teaching of patriotism in the schools in the United States, and placing of a flag on every school house and in every school room in the land.

A committee on patriotic teaching was added to the standing committees.

During the afternoon session Abbie Lynch, in behalf of the national council, presented the president, Mrs. Mink, with an elegant diamond ring.

A SOCIAL SENSATION.

A Prominent Breckinridge Supporter of Frankfort, Ky., Cowhides His Brother-in-Law.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 13.—There was quite a scene in the main street of this city at a late hour this afternoon, the occasion being the public cowhiding of a brother-in-law. Kenner Taylor was standing with a cowhide in his hand in front of a prominent news depot, when he spied his brother-in-law, Pythian Saffell, only a few feet away. He called Saf-fell and both men advanced towards each other, in seemingly pleasant style. Just as Saffell came within reaching distance he was dealt several blows with the whip in Taylor's hands.
Saffell retaliated with his fists, giving Taylor two blows.

At this stage of the fight, in which Saffell was considerably worsted, Judge W. H. Sneed, a kinsman of Saffell, ran across the street, separating the belligerents, with the advice that Saffell go home.

No public explanation is given of the trouble, which has created a decided sensation, but it is probably due to domestic differences. Saffell married Taylor's sister a few years ago while he was a mail carrier under his father, ex-Postmaster J. M. Saffell.

Taylor is a son of Hon. F. H. Taylor, Jr., the well-known distiller and politician, who has gained considerable reputation by his active influence in behalf of Col. Breckinridge. He has always been a quiet, agreeable young gentleman, and is popular in society circles.

The Government Building at the Atlanta

Exposition.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Secretary
Carlisle, exercising the discretion given him by congress, has decided that, with the $50,000 appropriation available for that purpose, he cannot tear down the government main building at the Chicago World's fair grounds and re-erect it at Atlanta, Ga. He has therefore confirmed the sale of this building to the Chicago House Wrecking Co. of Chicago, for $3,200. At the same time he has directed Supervising Architect O'Rourke of the treasury department to prepare plans and specifications for the erection of a government building at the Atlanta exposition, to come within $50,000. For this sum it is believed that a building that will afford much space can be artistically and ornamentally erected.

To be Minister to China.

ROME, Sept. 14.—Several dailies publish an item that H. R. Whitehouse, secretary of the United States embassy, has been named United States minister to China. They say that his departure will be regretted generally here, as he is one of the most popular Americans in Rome. Mr. Whitehouse is travelling in Switzerland.

Accepted a Compromise.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Secretary Carlisle has accepted $400 in place of penalties incurred by the Moine City Distilling Co., Alfred Bell, president, St. Louis, for violation of the law in having 257 barrels of alcohol, the contents of which do not agree with those indicated by the marks and brands.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 14.—The police of Shelbyville last night captured a gang of counterfeiters and their outfit in that city. The leader of the gang is the notorious Buck Hart.
They have been making and "showing

SENATOR CULLOM has not left much of MacVeagh, the sugar trust candidate for United States senator.

The returns from Maine so far as heard from give the Republican candidate for governor over 37,000 plurality.

FRANKLIN MACVEAGH might possibly find a few converts to Republicanism in Vermont and Maine, providing he can not wait until the election in Illinois.

"ANDY HUNTER is trying to explain that wages have not been reduced. This is rather a vigorous undertaking for a man who voted to tax the poor man's sugar and for free diamonds.

WILLIAM M. SPRINGER is reported as saying, in Decatur, that he is not used to having a Republican county like Macon in his district, and suggesting that Macon ought to be made Democratic, which will only require the conversion of 150 Republicans. There is not the least danger of converting 150 Republicans to the sugar trust Democracy, but if 150 were converted, the Democrats who have become thoroughly disgusted with the policies of the party as exemplified in Congress, would give the county to Major Connolly by 600. Mr. Springer will have to put up with several Republican counties in his district this fall.

SPRINGER says something about the farmers of Macon county selling where they can sell the dearest and buying where they can buy the cheapest. That is a Democratic proposition as old as the hills, and never was verified under any Democratic tariff legislation. The best market the American farmer ever had was the home market created by protection which diversified American industries, and that was the only market under which he prospered. Since the Democrats came into power that market has been so seriously crippled that the American farmer alone has lost more money than the civil war cost the country, and worse than all, no other market has been opened to the American farmer by Springer and his colleagues.

The dispatches yesterday reported a general wage reduction in the tin industries of the country. While "Andy" Hunter is claiming that wages are not being reduced, he ought to read the papers. Messrs. Hunter and Springer both voted to reduce the wage of workmen and they did it too with their eyes wide open. There was no mistake about it as thousands of wage earners petitioned these gentlemen not to vote for a tariff bill that would be certain to reduce wages and throw millions out of employment; but both these gentlemen, and every other Democratic congressman, turned a deaf ear to the petitions of workmen and voted to bring about idleness, soup houses and reduce wages, and now have the sublime cheek to ask workmen to vote the Democratic ticket.

Will Brice Resign?

It is reported that Senator Brice, of Ohio, has decided to resign in case the Ohio Democrats pass resolutions condemning his course in relation to the senate tariff bill. This is not put out in the nature of a threat, but suggests a very reasonable and proper sequel to such a proceeding. The Wilson bill, as it came to the senate, was without doubt the greatest product of imbecility that ever passed the house in the shape of a revenue bill. Purporting to be a revenue tariff bill, its operation would have been to create a deficiency of nearly $50,000,000 a year in the revenues. The senate could not afford to let such a bill become a law, and men of affairs, like Brice and Gorman, in the senate, were forced to doctor the house production so that it would hold some water at least. To do this there was but one way open and that was to tax sugar. The next thing that became necessary was to do a lot of trading and bargaining to get votes enough to pass the bill in the senate. To all of this bartering, it has been proven, President Cleveland gave his consent and afterward characterized the bill as an act of perfidy and dishonor.

The course of the president brought on a conflict between his friends in the party, who believe he can do no wrong, and those senators with whom the president had consulted in arranging a bill that could get voter enough to pass it through the senate. An effort is now being made all along the Democratic line to make scapegoats of those senators who were instrumental in getting a bill through the senate, and the rule is to pass resolutions through Democratic conventions lauding Cleveland and condemning these senators.

Senator Brice simply gives notice that if this is done in Ohio he will resign his seat in the senate. This is precisely what every one of these senators should do. Should Brice resign a Republican would succeed him in the senate and Ohio would be properly represented in that body. The people of the state have repudiated the Democratic party by a plurality of 81,000 and ought not to have a Democrat in the Senate, and the state should be deprived of a Democratic senator whose Democracy will insist while in such a minority in the state that a Democratic senator should consent to allow Cleveland to dictate to him. The chances are Brice will do as he says if the Ohio Democracy acts the fool as they have done in other places.

Hard on Springer.

The following petition was presented to the board of supervisors of Christian county this week:

We, the undersigned voters and taxpayers of Christian county, do hereby petition your honorable body: First, that as wheat, wool, sheep, horses, mules and all other farm products have been reduced in value, we therefore demand of your honorable body, in consideration of these things, to reduce the salaries of our county officials at least one-fourth.

Is this a dream or a reality? Can it be possible that the Democratic administration, that in 1892 promised the laboringmen and the farmers better prices for their labor and their farm products, have failed to keep their promises? Springer should go at once to Christian county, and take "Andy" Hunter with him, and show these farmers that they are mistaken; that wheat, wool, sheep, horses, mules and other farm products are not cheaper, but that on the contrary, they are living in the luxury of a second Democratic "golden era," and that they are simply the victims of an hallucination. These Mooses ought to go at once to those farmers in Christian county who are crying for the leeks and onions and melons of the Egypt of Republicanism of 1892, and tell them they should sell where they can sell the dearest and buy where they can buy the cheapest."

This is a fine opportunity for Springer to point these farmers to that Democratic market where they can "sell the dearest," and he ought to do it at once before they make the mistake of reducing the salaries of their county officers, when in fact, if Springer's theories are correct, these salaries ought to be raised instead of being lowered. Now Springer ought to do this. He has just told the Macon county farmers, in an interview, that they ought to vote the Democratic ticket because they are prosperous, and he ought to do the same with the Christian county farmers. He must not allow them to get the idea in their heads that they are not prospering, as they did under Republican rule.

People Who Want Help Must Board with Steward Burley.Col. Taggart's Militia Claim Cut—Rule on Holding Inquests.This evening the board of supervisors adjourned for the term.The Fees and Salaries committee found correct the report of Supt. J. N.
Donahy, the report showing there was due that official from the county the sum of $325.Supervisor Bean moved that the board consider the claim of Ross Hockaday for holding an inquest on the body of Rolia Boyd. This question provoked considerable discussion but the members finally decided to pay the claim, $11.The Finance committee made a report that on Sept. 1, 1894, there was in the county treasury the sum of $3,200; that the bills audited and ordered paid at this meeting amount to about $13,200, leaving a deficit of $10,000. The committee recommended that some action be taken by this board whereby the running expenses of the county may be met.

The report was approved.

Supervisor Bean offered a resolution which was adopted, to the effect that in future proper effort shall first be made to notify the coroner in case the holding of an inquest is necessary, and that then, if the coroner cannot be secured, if deemed necessary, a justice of the peace may hold the inquest, the justice to be paid the statutory fee.

NOTICE TO FARMERS.

Supervisor Moffett introduced this resolution which was adopted:WHEREAS, The bills for supplies in aid of paupers are increasing so rapidly that the treasury is exhausted and the limit of taxation is reached, and there seems to be many depending upon the county for their support who are able but not willing to earn their own support, and offer as an excuse the hard times and want of employment, andWHEREAS, There appears that many are receiving aid from the county who would shift for themselves rather than be taken care of at the poor farm; therefore,Resolved, That our overseer of the poor for the county be required to send all paupers to the poor house of this county for care, excepting only such as, as humanity and a just regard for the unfortunate shall dictate should be aided at their homes.Robert Taggart, of the Central House, who boarded the militia during the recent railway strike, presented his bill for $148.75, which was regarded by some members of the board as a very moderate charge. The claim was referred to the Judiciary Committee, which submitted a report as follows:Would report that they find that it is the state's duty under the law to provide sustenance for the militia in service and find also the conditions under which meals were furnished were exceptional and that the sheriff of our own county did give orders for the food, the commander of these troops first calling on him to authorize the payment of such food in an emergency and obtained it, and that the county is, by such order, obligated thereby, yet we find that some of the supplies were not authorized either by Mr. Perl, or Col.
Wells, and that the whole bill is too high for the quantity and quality furnished, we would therefore recommend the amount of the bill be reduced to $103, and that that amount be allowed.The report was adopted without call of the roll.On motion the action of the board on the Taggart bill was reconsidered, and after explanations by Chairman May and Sheriff Perl, each stating that the bill was just in all particulars, on motion the claim for $148.75 was allowed.Election judges for Decatur and Maroa were appointed, and the board adjourned.

BROKE A BICYCLE RECORD.

In the bicycle tournament at Springfield, Mass., C. M. Murphy lowered the world's record for two miles paced held by Tyler, 4:15 3/5 to 4:06 3/5.In the mile international record race Bald won in 2:05 4/5, the world's record.Later in the afternoon Nat Butler took a slice off the 2 mile paced flying start record, lowering Murphy's time, to 4:04 4/5.F. J. Titus of New York then lowered the hour record, covering 26 miles, 1,499 yards, within the time limit.At a meeting of the Decatur Cycling Club last evening it was decided to give a banquet at the St. Nicholas hotel on the evening of Sept. 20th.When our account ended in yesterday's paper Synod had just completed the consideration of the report of the Home Mission committee. Synod reassembled half an hour earlier in the afternoon of Thursday, in order to find more time for the transaction of important business. The educational committee reported favorably in behalf of a young man who desired aid in securing his ministerial education. Synod granted him one hundred dollars. The examination committee reported in the case of Mr. J. A. Leas, who has come to this meeting of Synod for the purpose of receiving ordination to the Holy Ministry, but who lies sick at the home of Mr.
Deck on North Church street. The committee recommended that the officers of Synod be authorized to ordain him upon his recovery. Adopted.At 3:15 Synod adjourned on account of the death of Mr. Olson, whose funeral services were to be held in the church.

EVENING SERVICE.

At 7:45 a public service took place in the interests of foreign missions. Rev.
C. Koerner, chairman of the committee on this subject, conducted the altar services. Rev. J. Telleen, superintendent of foreign missions of the general council, made the address. For his theme he laid down the proposition, "The living church of Christ is a mission-making church." It receives and it gives. It receives from on high gifts not found among men, from God's word, from communion with God in prayer and from the Lord's Supper. It gives itself, of its means, to others. The church ever proves itself worthy of the gospel to those without it. Speaking directly of our field in India, he said that our territory contained seven millions of people, among whom during the past two years 1224 converts had been made, making a total of over four thousand now in our church there. Two thousand children are in our schools. Over 100 natives are employed in our mission field as teachers, catechists and colporteurs.
The Americans Europeans engaged number 18, eight missionaries and their wives and two Zenana workers, women who find their way into the inner recesses of Hindu homes and hovels, where Hindoo wives and widows are locked from the world, and from the reach of male missionaries. After the sermon Rev. Telleen showed his audience one of the 390,000 gods the Hindoos worship and many pictures and photographs of scenes in the foreign field.Synod opened this morning with devotional exercises by Rev. P. C. Thyboldt.The following was adopted by a rising vote:Resolved, That our thanks are due and are hereby tendered to the pastor, members and friends of this congregation for the kindness and hospitality manifested to us during our sojourn among them, and that the pastor be requested to read this resolution before his congregation at some suitable time.All the ministers unite in expressing their delight in having spent the last four days in the beautiful city of Decatur and in the homes of some of its hospitable citizens. They all leave for their homes well pleased with the city, the church and the people.After the adoption of the above resolution the apportionment committee reported and Synod at once proceeded to the discussion of the different items.
When the hour of adjournment arrived Synod was still at work on this report.
It will be completed this afternoon and Synod will adjourn sine die.

A Pleasant Time.

Last evening Albert Mann was visited by quite a large company of his friends and schoolmates at his home on West Eldorado street. It was quite a surprise to him. The evening was spent with games and music, and ice cream and cake were served to the young people.
The party included Ruth Deetz, Gertrude Dillehunt, Susie Tucker, Alice Bevens, Desie Hanesher, Grace Shimer, Myrtle Flint, Minnie Fremont, Ethel Quinlan, and Frank Grout, Leslie Dille-hunt, Fred Grout, John Clay, John Kinney, Fred Ferguson, Ben Imboden, Horace Paxton, Fred Mann, Earle Mann and others.

Smith and Springer.

Last night at Lincoln Albert F. Smith, the prohibition candidate for congress, and W. M. Springer, the Democratic candidate, addressed a joint meeting of the political parties which was largely attended by all parties. Mr. Smith occupied an hour in opening, in which he held up prohibition as the most important political question; and also spoke on the school question, tariff commission and arbitration. Mr. Springer responded and spoke for over an hour, explaining why he voted both ways on the tariff bill, and trying to answer some of the questions put by Smith.The New School of Mechanical there has been considerable quiet talk on the streets here about another strike of miners. This evening this talk resulted in a serious fight between union and non union miners on the most prominent business street in the city, in which two union miners were dangerously wounded. The names of the injured men are Thomas Tennant and Michael Murphy. The fight broke out when the head of a beaten miner was thrown into a crowd. The latter was so badly hurt in the same manner that he had to be taken home in a cab. One of the non unionists was hit by a unionist bystander, until an officer arrived at 1 took him to jail.

The other non unionist was shot at by the officer. The non unionists came here from the Tennessee. They are brothers named Holloway, and worked in the mines during the late strike and delighted in calling themselves the Tennessee scabs. For doing so they were attacked by the unionists.

"Miss Dynamite"

On Monday evening, Sept. 17, Mrs.
Jansen will make her first appearance here at the Opera House. In Marie Jan-son's company, which will present Glen MacDonnell's new play, "Miss Dynamite," are two highly accomplished musicians, Wm. Norris and Hope Ross. In the piece Norris plays the part of a dreaming German musical student and Miss Ross that of a young girl, who is in love with him. One of the scenes introduces them at the piano and as a natural and appropriate part of the action they execute a brilliant and difficult fantasia. Mr. Morris playing with his right hand. Miss Ross with her left, the two remaining arms being clasped about each other. It is a poetic and dainty situation and the duet is exquisitely played.

NAPOLEON THE GREAT.

Lord Wolsey's Important Contribution to Napoleonic Literature.

It is clear from the vivid and impartial description of the scenes of 1813-14 by Gen. Wolsey that Napoleon's downfall was primarily attributed to two leading causes.

In the first place, when his affairs were really in a desperate situation, after the Armageddon of Leipzig, he declined to accept at the hands of the allies a France bounded by the Rhine and the Pyrenees, and more extensive territory than the France over which the proud Bourbons had reigned. In the next place he fell because his resources were exhausted. France had no more millions, or even thousands, to sacrifice to his ambition. The bones of her sons were scattered from Moscow to Bavaria; only women and children were left to cultivate the soil, and as the remaining fell in gallant conflict against overwhelming odds none stepped forward to fill the places of the slain. The enemies of Napoleon did not at once become aware of the exhausted condition of France and of the inability of their dreaded antagonist to recruit his depleted armies. They stood in fear of the very shadow of France.

It was this fear that gave Napoleon his opportunity. That opportunity he rejected, and the allies then closed in for the conclusive struggle. Gen. Wolsey shows that Napoleon exhibited splendid strategy and self-control under circumstances well calculated to break down even his powerful mind, and that but for the treachery and incapacity of his subordinates he might have given a stunning blow to the invaders. But the end was inevitable. Napoleon's foes had discovered his weakness and had broken the charm of his invincibility.
A brilliant victory for the French would only have deferred, but would not have defeated their triumph.

The pitiful situation to which France was reduced by Napoleon's wars suggests that the greatest conquerors have been, in one sense, the greatest enemies of their own countries, and that the experts which read so brilliantly have usually resulted in as great calamity for nations as for vanquished. The most vivid proofs of this historical fact are to be found in the condition of Sweden after Charles XII. and of France when Napoleon fell. Sweden has never recovered the place she held in Europe before Charles sought to become another Alexander, and France is paying the penalty to-day for the achievements of the man in whose name and fame she takes the greatest pride, as the Swedes admire and love the memory of Charles XII., although he found them in purple and left them in ashes.—Chicago Herald.

ELECTRICITY ON THE FARM.

It Is Expected to Make Country Life Less Laborious.

Part of the growing difficulties occasioned by the desertion of the country and the crowding of the cities will be remedied, perhaps, by six years hence —in that wonderful year 1900, which electricians set as a mile post of human progress—by the crowning of steam's rival. Machinery is rapidly taking the deadening drudgery out of farm work, it is making it more profitable when conducted scientifically and on a large scale, and is causing it to attract the attention of city people who long for the healthful fields. Only the bodily discomforts of farm work have prevented an exodus from the cities to the country. Already electricity is turning its attention to the long-neglected farm work, and has discovered profitable results to be had by subjecting crops to currents of electricity. It is beginning to simplify the ponderous, farm machinery, and as soon as the storage battery has received its finishing touches and can be applied to lightening the farmer's toil and increasing his profits the farmer will be looked upon with envy by the prisoners of city streets and counting-house walls. Those particular effects of electricity upon farm machinery and farm life are, however, visible chiefly in the imagination at present, and are not at all likely to be realized in six years; but one great change may be looked for in this direction in the immediate future, and that is the improvement of the farmer's condition by means of good roads, and the rapid transit which electricity is almost ready to bring, thus greatly enlarging his market and bringing him higher prices for fresher products, and also bringing him closer to the life and pleasure and stimulating effect of the city. There is to be a wonderful change in farm life in the more thickly settled parts of the country in a very few years and rapid transit will be largely responsible for it.

The cheap transmission of electrical power must bring soon many changes that will be felt in the city household, and perhaps the chief of them will be the abolition of the cook stove, as it is known at present. The small electric heater has already begun to take its place, and it is almost certain that even in six years coal will be banished from a majority of the kitchens in cities adjacent to water power, from which electricity is generated. When heat is wanted for cooking purposes it will be had at a moment's notice by the pressing of a button.—N. Y. Press.

A Vase of Gold.
The department of Greek and Roman antiquities, British museum, has quite recently secured by purchase one of the choicest examples of ancient art in solid gold which even that collection possesses. It is a vase of this metal in its purest condition, without sculptures, measuring nearly eight inches in height, about four inches in diameter, and in shape most like a pelvis when deprived of its handles. It is of Roman origin, perhaps of the period of Augustus. An inscription on the bottom of the vessel indicates that its weight nearly corresponds to two pounds Troy of the modern scale. It was lately found by a sponge diver in the sea off the island of Samos, and may be all that remains of a wreck which occurred there nearly two thousand years ago.—Athenian.

MARVELS OF SCIENCE.

SIRIUS, the fixed star, now in the second, is computed to be 100,000,000, 000 miles distant from the sun.

The Sierra Nevada range of mountains in California is nearly 500 miles long, 70 wide, and from 7,000 to nearly 15,000 feet high.

LEUT. BRESLER of the French navy has invented a compass which does away with a steersman, as the compass steers the vessel itself.

The hair has a growth of its own growth of the hair in the dead long af-decay under the influence of a dry at-

The aerial space within the limit of our vision is calculated to have a diameter of 420,000,000 miles and a circumference of 1,329,742,000,000 miles. And this is only a fragment of the immensity of space.

DR. SCHAFER, of Vienna, has applied photography to the study of the human skin. A bright light is projected on the part of the skin to be examined, tails of the skin, including markings not usually discernible, are photographed.

THEIR START IN LIFE.

MARTIN VAN BUREN began life as an office boy for a lawyer, rising slowly to the position of clerk, copyist and finally becoming a pleader in the courts of justice of the state.

BERNARDOTTE, one of Napoleon's marshals, who afterwards became king of Sweden, was educated in the office of a country notary, and spent his time in copying legal papers.

SOUTHEY, the poet, spent most of his boyhood in his father's linen shop. He wrote verses in the intervals of business and kept his papers hidden among the goods on the shelves.

WEST, the painter, showed his talent at a very early age. He made sketches in charcoal before he was ten, and some of his early work displays great ease in the use of the crayon.

JOHN HOWARD showed in boyhood the philanthropic traits that afterwards made his name famous. He was continually on the lookout for some case of distress that he might relieve.

WOLSKY's early life is said to have been passed mainly in the slaughter house of his father, who was a butcher.
He was sometimes called by his enemies
"The Butcher's Dog."

THERE are times when a weak ruler is more dangerous than a strong enemy.

THERE are emergencies in which an ounce of powder is worth a ton of proclamation.

In order to be called good fellows some folks are the meanest kind of ones to those that love them best.—

PENNED AND SCISSORED.

It has been proved beyond reasonable doubt that diphtheria, scarlatina, typhoid fever and cholera have spread through milk.

ATTILA was called the "Scourge of God," from an expression of his own:
"Where my horse has trodden no grass will ever grow."

RABELAIS was called the Father of Satire, the Phoenix of Wit and the Might of France from the pungent character of his satire.

Europe has the largest fleet in the world. It is one hundred miles one way and twenty-five the other. The fleet alone cost fifty thousand dollars.

PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL.

—The Princess Louise is said to be very superstitious and sometimes will not attend public functions as agreed upon on the plea that she knows it will be one of her "bad days."

—The "wheat king" of the world belonged to Argentina. He is an Italian immigrant named Guazone, and his brood acres are situated in the south of the province of Buenos Ayres.

—Mrs. Lois Triton, who died recently in New Haven, aged 95, was the last slave sold on the New Haven green, if not in Connecticut. This occurred in 1824. She was born in Halifax, N. S., in 1759.

—Tanetaro Megata, who in 1874 was one of the first Japanese students ever at Harvard, is now superintendent of the custom house at Yokohama, Japan, a position as important as that of collector of the port of New York.

—William C. Carpenter, the oldest practicing lawyer in New York, appeared as counsel in the city court the other day. He is 91 years of age, in vigorous health and sound of mind, and says it is work that keeps him alive.

—Oscar Wilde now dresses, as he imagines, in the de siècle style. He wears a long sack coat of gray Scotch cloth.
It reaches nearly to his knees. His cravat is enormous. His hair is long and parted on the side. His cuffs are many sizes too large for him, and are fastened with links.

—Mrs. Maxwell Scott, the present owner of Abbotsford, Scotland, has sent to Messrs. Sotheby, the London publishers, the original manuscript of "Anne of Geierstein," which consists of 265 quarto pages, and is entirely in the hand of the distinguished author. It will soon be offered for sale.

—The will of the late Prof. Robert Smith leaves his Arabic and Syriac manuscript books, together with twenty early printed or scarce books to be selected by the librarian, to the University library, Cambridge. With this exception the whole of his working library, which is very valuable, is left to Christ's college.

—Italian, French, German, and English are all spoken fluently by the queen of Italy, and her boudoir table is generally strewn with books and magazines in all four languages. She is especially fond of books of travel, and regrets deeply that she has never been able to gratify her taste for foreign journeys.

—The war and tear of administering the treasury department killed Manning and Folger; but their fates were exceptional, as most of the secretaries of the treasury have been longlived. There are seven former secretaries still surviving: Hugh McCulloch, George S. Boutwell, Benjamin F. Bris-towl, John Sherman, Walter G. Gresham, Charles S. Fairchild and Charles Foster. The same number of ex-secretaries of war survive: Schofield, Cameron, Ramsay, Lincoln, Proctor, Endlicott, and Elkins.

—An Offset.—Young Miss—"I don't want any man to ask me all of a sudden to marry him." Old Miss—"Neither do I; still, I'd try to offset it by accepting him as suddenly."—Detroit Free Press.

people jabber?" They just say over the same things again and again. Second Parrot—"Yes; they are probably trying to pass themselves off as parrots."—

Cincinnati Tribune.

—Johnny—"Pa, what's the difference between cannibals and other folks?" Pa—"Cannibals, my son, eat their enemies; other people generally go no nearer than to live on their friends and relatives."—Boston Transcript.

—The governess was giving little Tommy a grammar lesson the other day. "An abstract noun," she said, "is the name of something which you can think of but not touch. Can you give me an example?" "A red-hot poker."

—Doctor—"How old are you now, Maggie?" Maggie—"I'm twelve, doctor." Doctor—"Well, I declare, I shouldn't have taken you for more than ten." Maggie (with an air of modesty).
—"Oh! you say that to flatter me!"— Tid-Bits.

—"I told you you would never get —Prepared for the Future.—Immigrant Inspector—"Have you made any arrangements for your support in the future?" Immigrant (emphatically, surrounded by a dozen or more children).—"Oh! how that! Phwat does yer think of how raised a crowd of childer loik that fer?"—Puck.

—Mother—"That's Mr. Poorchap in the parlor with your sister isn't it?" Small Son—"Yes." "Hum! I wonder what that poverty-stricken fellow thinks of that $40 bouquet Mr. Richfello sent her?" "He doesn't like it much. Sister has been holding his hands all the evening so he can't hurt it."—Credit Lost.

—"Papa," said little Katie, "do you know how high those clouds are?"
"No, child," answered her father, with an indignant smile. "Well," said Katie, regarding them with critical eyes, "if do. They're cirrus clouds, and they're about three miles and a half high. You didn't have very good schools when you were little, did you, papa?"—Demorest's.

Winter—Free Trial Treatment—Prices Within the Reach of All Terms Reasonable.

Great numbers of people daily suffer from the malignant poisons of Catarrh and other maladies without any definite idea of the nature of their affliction.
Many diseases known under a specific name are really due to some Catarrhal origin or affliction. Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, eyes, ears, head, lungs, stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and bladder are subject to the blight of Catarrh. Read the following symptoms carefully and if you live away send them to Drs. Abel & Jones with your symptoms marked out:

Do you ache all over?

Does your nose discharge?
Does your nose bleed easily?
Is there tickling in your throat?
Do crusts form in your nose?

Is your sense of smell leaving you?
Do you hawk to clear your throat?
Is there a dropping in the throat?
Do you sleep with your mouth open?
Does your nose stop up toward night?

Catarrh of the Bronchial Tubes.
When catarrh of the head and throat is left unchecked it extends down the windpipe into the bronchial tubes and after awhile attacks the lungs. Speedy

Jones system.

Do you cough until you gag?
Are you low-spirited at times?
Do you raise frothy material?
Do you spit up yellow matter?

For fifteen years I was afflicted with severe chronic catarrh. The disease had taken so strong a hold on me as to cause me to lose flesh and weight. The nasal

At six o'clock this morning the fire department was called out by a little blaze at J. Millikin & Co.'s bank. The blaze was at the desk window where O. B. Gorin transacts business every day, and was caused by an electric wire which had been wrapped around a gas pipe. The insulation had burnt off by long usage and a small hole had been burnt in the gas pipe from which the gas escaped and ignited, burning briskly until it set fire to the wood work. Fortunately the fire was discovered in time for the department to check it in its incipient stage. Slight damage. To-day new insulated wire was put in the bank. A few years ago fire from similar cause was discovered in the bank in the day time while the clerks were at work.

The Latest Fad. Prof. Vernele, the renowned Hindoo magician, is drawing big crowds of wondering people in front of Cheap Charley's clothing store, and will close the Decatur engagement to-night. The professor appears in the large show window and gives an exhibition which is mystifying, thoroughly puzzling. The "Hindoo handkerchief puzzle" is the local wonder. It is being sold to those who will buy it at 25 cents. Anybody can work it. J. L. McMullin is the inventor. Cheap Charley has the crowds at all hours of the day.

Alleged Extravagance. Supervisor Beckwith, of Capital township, Springfield, has been censured by the county board for alleged extravagance in giving out county orders in aid of the needy. The bill for the past three months was $5400, double the amount for the same time a year ago. But then Springfield had a lot of idle men out of a job in her midst during the summer, and the poor are still with them.

DIDN'T LIKE THE SONG.

The Democratic Postmaster at Pittsburg Assaunts Major E. W. McIntosh.

Old Veterans Rush to the Rescue of Their Comrade—The Song.

In the Chicago Inter-Ocean of to-day appears this telegram of local interest: PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 13.—The sensational feature of the G. A. R. encampment was a demonstration to-day that almost precipitated a riot on the post-office steps in Smithfield street. A crowd of several thousand people, among them hundreds of veterans, threatened to mob the postmaster for assaulting an old soldier.

The cause of the uprising was E. W. McIntosh, a veteran of the Fourteenth Illinois Volunteers, who had been for eight months a prisoner at Andersonville. He has been for some years a resident of Decatur, Ill., but now resides in Indianapolis. He sells photographs of himself as he appeared when released from Andersonville, a living skeleton, detailing his prison experience, more horrible than any tales of Calcutta black holes, and sings songs which he has himself composed.

He visited Postmaster O'Donnell's office and asked permission to sing from the big front steps a couple of songs to the old Grand Army men, who were clustered thick upon the steps and standing about in groups on the broad pavement in front of the postoffice. The postmaster gave his permission, and McIntosh went out and sang. Postmaster O'Donnell stood at his window and listened. He supposed, as a matter of course, that the Illinois ex-prisoner would sing some song of war times, of bivouac or battle. The first verse and the chorus were enough for him.

McIntosh has a strong voice and clear enunciation. The moment he tuned up and thrummed a guitar as an accompaniment to his clarion notes, people flocked from every direction, and within half a minute 500 people were massed upon the steps and sidewalk, entirely blocking three or four entrances to the postoffice. The first stanza and the chorus which McIntosh sang was as follows:

As I sit idly dreaming of the happy time that's gone, Not a dollar in my pocket and the winter coming on, The thing that breaks me up the most, and makes me feel so small Is the sight of that old dinner-pail that's hanging on the wall.

Grover, Grover, you robbed the boys in blue, What have you done for the laboring man since the fall of '92? Hundreds and thousands are in an awful fix, But we'll have McKinley and protection in 1896.

There was more to come, but it did not come. The postmaster rushed from his office, seized the singer by the arm, and told him he could not in that way blockade the postoffice entrance. A uniformed policeman who had rushed into the crowd was summoned by the postmaster's finger, and took McIntosh in tow, conducting him down through the crowds on the postoffice steps and on the sidewalk.

McIntosh was taken in charge by some old soldiers who returned to the postoffice with him and introduced him to Captain Skinner, the pension agent, on the second floor. There the old man was given permission to set up his stand and ply his trade. He was invited to sing at the 77th Pennsylvania Volunteers, in the Pension Office, and made a hit.

"It is not the first time I have been chased by bloodhounds," McIntosh said. "This time, however, they went on two feet and wore clothes; but they are of the same kind."

Jumping Beans. Speaking of the Mexican jumping beans displayed in a Merchant street window, a well-known drummer said to-day: "These beans are now used by traveling men as a new amusement during their leisure moments. While taking an evening smoke, a number of us gather around a table on which is drawn a circle about eight inches in diameter. Each places a bean in the center, a stake is put up, and the owner of the first bean to hop out of the circle is the lucky winner. It is slow, but that increases the fun. The game is getting to be quite popular among the drummers."
